Class History

August, 1948, with eager hearts and searching little eyes, we began our first year in elementary school. We'll never forget the tea parties we held with the help of Mrs. Adams. Nor will we forget all the many pencils broken over our little heads.

After being promoted to the second grade, we thought we knew it all. However, it was Miss Burton who showed us that work had just begun.

It was in the third grade, taught by Mrs. Jacobs, that we began to learn adding, subtracting, multiplying, and dividing. Now we knew that school meant study, study, study.

Fourth and Fifth: We were really growing up fast. Our class activities were guided by Miss Warren and Mrs. McWhorter. With their love and understanding we grew to love them almost as much as we did our Mothers.

It was in the sixth grade that we got the first taste of what school was to be in years to come. Mrs. Jackson taught us this year to put our foolishness aside and really apply ourselves.

Never will we forget our trip to Chapel Hill in the seventh grade led by Mr. Berry. It was he who prepared us for high school.

Finally at last we reached high school. Yes, we were almost grown. It was Mrs. Highsmith who showed us that we had a long way to go. We'll never forget our trip to Cherry Point led by Mrs. Highsmith and Mr. Berry. Mr. Berry took his seventh grade with us.

For us girls it was Mrs. Mayo who guided us through our first year in Home Economics. We'll never forget her patience and guidance in teaching us how to sew, cook, and understand ourselves. Mr. Dewar led the boys through a successful year of teaching us farming, carpentering and care of livestock.

This was our first year of Algebra and Biology, taught by none other than our beloved teacher, Mr. Nicholson. History was taught by Mrs. Latham. We'll always remember her for her understanding and devotion to her class.

At last we reached our senior year, taught by Mrs. McKinney. Basketball games, Junior-Senior, Class Night, and many more activities will never be forgotten. The memories of our teachers, Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Latham, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. McKinney, Mr. Latham, and Mrs. McDonald. How very lucky we were to have such a fine group of teachers. Yes, at last, after twelve long years we were graduating from Bethel High School.

Never before did we realize the true meaning of "Parting makes the heart grow fonder!" We'll always love Bethel High, and all it means to us. Now we each have to make a home for ourselves out in the cold world. Thanks to Bethel High, we'll do our best.

Class Prophecy

After being airline hostess for Eastern Airlines for ten years, I was getting a transfer. I was to be honored by being made head stewardess on Eastern Airlines' new route through Outer Space.

My orders came through, and I found that my pilot would be the honorable general of the Air Force Advanced Flying Association, JERRY CHESSON.

We made the trip with only a few complications. For amusement we had the world-wide famous designer, JOYCE NICHOLS, give one of her fabulous fashion shows. It seemed that during the show her top model, LYNDIA MANNING, fell and sprained her ankle. Our worries were over as soon as we checked our register and found that we had a doctor aboard. To my amazement, it was KENNETH WHITEHURST, also one of my classmates of '60. While talking to him, I found that JEANE EDMONDSON had graduated with him and they had both gone to higher degrees in the field of medicine. He informed me that Jeane had already reached the moon and had set up a temporary hospital.

After reaching the moon, and being anchored, I started immediately for the hospital. Driving down one of the prominent avenues on my atomic propelled vehicle, I spotted someone familiar carving the face of Eisenhower in the side of a crater. Yes, it was GEORGE BROWN. Talking with him only briefly, he told me that he had already received recognition on the moon for his painting of "McKinney's Conception of Study." George told me that JASPER HANNAH had set up an experimental farm which covered about 125 acres of "moon land." So far he had not succeeded, but if he is the same Jasper I remember, he won't quit until he does.

Soon after my arrival at the hospital, there was quite a confusion in the emergency room. JOSEPH EVERETT had been involved in a terrible accident. It seems he refused to stop at an intersection. I suppose he thought he was still on the race track where he had made his name for history.

To plead his case Joe hired the best defense lawyer in outer space, MALESE MOZINGO. The judge who tried the case may have been partial to Joe because of former connections. Could you ever believe it—JACKIE JAMES, a judge? The case was dismissed when Malese pleaded for her client temporary insanity.

Because ours was the first Airline established on the moon, we were invited to have dinner with the "top man." Since our arrival there, we had only heard him referred to as "Dave." Sitting opposite me at the banquet table was TROY KNOX. He told me that he was one of the first men to settle on the moon. He now holds an important position, Head of the Traffic Division.

While waiting for the "top man," JERRY WILLIAMS entertained us. I was told that he was the number one actor on the moon. He runs a radio station for a hobby.

Finally, the honored guest was approaching—Golly, it was GENE KEEL! After dinner, he invited me into his study for a chat. He told me that on his night of graduation from Duke, the Science Society of Earth had chosen him as "Moon Leader." Other than being "Moon Leader," Gene also teaches Math and Science in the moon's one and only college.

Back home at the Riviera, my thoughts lingered back to our days at dear ole Bethel High. Little did we realize that our lives could be as rich and full as they are now.

A SALUTE TO BETHEL HIGH SCHOOL

Now we tread out the doorway
And on our own we go.
Yet, we look back fondly towards thee,
Wondering what our fate will be.

Your glowing light has lead us
And quenched our hungering need;
For the truths and learnings
That will someday be our creed.

Yes, we salute you, Bethel High School
For the wondrous things you've done,
For you've given us the foundation
To build our lives upon.

Harry,

Every since I have known you I have enjoyed playing and getting to know you just as you are. I hope you are happy as I have enjoyed your friendship. I wish you all the happiest, most sincere, and the best kind of friendship the rest of your life.

Harry,

I have enjoyed going to school and knowing you for the past 4 years. Its nice, sometimes, to be around a boy who is so active, especially in talking.
